Payments and Purchase Terms

When making purchases on our platform, you must provide financial information relevant to your selected payment method. Payment processing is handled through PayPal, which securely manages your payment details. We do not retain or directly process any financial information; all such data is subject to the terms and conditions of PayPal.

In addition to PayPal, our platform accepts several other payment methods to facilitate your transactions. These include major Credit/Debit cards, and various cryptocurrencies such as Bitcoin (BTC), Litecoin (LTC), Ethereum (ETH), and Binance Pay. Moreover, Sellix is utilized for product management purposes.

All sales of digital keys and licenses through our platform are final. Upon completion of a purchase, you acknowledge that digital products, including software licenses and keys, are non-refundable and non-returnable, except in cases where the product is demonstrably defective. Customers are advised to thoroughly review their selected products prior to purchase. If a digital key is non-functional and this issue is reported within 24 hours of purchase, a replacement key may be issued. We do not provide compensation for the discontinuation or withdrawal of software by the original software manufacturers.

Should you encounter any issues or have inquiries regarding our services or your purchases, our customer support team is available to provide prompt assistance and resolve issues. Our response time goal is to address all inquiries within a 12-hour period.

You acknowledge that the operation of digital keys and licenses may be affected by various factors, including but not limited to the discontinuation of the software by its manufacturer. Digital Key Sale is not responsible for any loss or damage arising from such discontinuations, nor do we have control over the performance of the software once the key is delivered.
